The complete set of the "Season Medals":
2 of each design, one in Silver and one in Bronze.
making the set of 6 pieces.
Of the great rarity and beauty of these celebrated medals of Washington, every collector is aware, we know of but one other complete set, that being in the collection of Mr Wm S. Appleton of Boston and who paid $450.- for it, to Mr Haseltine of Phila.

In the McCoy sale #4 a set same as these sold for $900 purchased by Mr Lighttody and sold in his coll in 1865 for $800. this may be that set, as Mr Bushnell (who's set this was) told us that he valued them at $900 so we are led to belive that this is that same set as Mr B was purchasing at that time, the other set which Mr Appleton has were sold (in 1873 or 1874 we belive) for $75 each or 6@75= $450.- the price he afterwards paid for them.

These are most beautiful impressions, and while an odd one in damaged condition has been sold, still no other set has ever been offered than those above mentioned, that we are aware of.

We place a very reasonable price on them, which is in fact $50.- less than we would have gone to for them at the sale, but having secured a great bargain we are willing to give one.

Price for the set, $250.-

4th Mo. 21st 1883

T. Harrison Garrett. Esq

Dear Sir.

We desire to offer to you the rarest coin of the U. S. regular series, viz—
1815 Half Eagle, in uncirculated condition, with perhaps what might be termed the slightest touch of cabinet friction, a strong, sharp, beautiful piece. Price $480.

But four specimens of this date are known to exist, which cannot, we think, be said of any other date of U.S. coins; it is of greater rarity than the dollar of 1804 and, in a few years when the collecting of gold develops it will no doubt command a very large figure.

Very Respectfully
S. H. & H. Chapman.

P.S.

The U.S. mint collection does not contain a specimen. One of the four mentioned above, is in the collection of the Swedish mint.

1883.

T. Harrison Garrett, Esq.

Dear Sir,

Your letter and package containing the 1793 Liberty Cap Cent received.

The cent is good value for the money; the 1793 Liberty caps in Crosby collection are no comparison to this and the one in Jenks sale is only fine, we sold it to Mr Jenks for $13.

We have taken the liberty to send a selection of fine pieces on approval, $159.45 by express to day, all charges prepaid; the prices are low and reasonable and the coins desirable, we hope you will find some to suit you, please examine and return those not wanting at your earliest convenience.

Very Respectfully,

S. H. & H. Chapman

P.S. We will attend the sales next week in person and would be pleased to execute any bids you may send; you can rely on our buying as low as possible!
